

In Your Eyes - 1/2

Interprété par Sylver.

can still remember, long ago
Living in the fast lane, never slow
And nothing that could come between me and you
I still hear the words i thought were cheap
You should always look before you leap
And i never realised those words were oh so true

I hope that you can hear me
Though you`re living in another world
Throwing shadows upon earth

In your eyes, I could drown and still survive
In your eyes, I could see how to live my life
But if only I knew
That chances were few
Maybe I would still be with you

Several thoughts I can`t define
Living on a dream, seems like a crime
But every now and then it`s hard to ignore
`Cause only in my dreams I find a clue
When I try to build a memory of you
I know our love would be much stronger than before

I hope that you can hear me
Though your living in another world
Throwing shadows upon earth

In your eyes, I could drown and still survive
In your eyes, I could see how to live my life
But if only I knew
That chances were few
Maybe I would still be with you

I hope that you can hear me
Though your living in another world
Throwing shadows upon earth

In your eyes, I could drown and still survive
In your eyes, I could see how to live my life
But if only I knew
That chances were few
Maybe I would still be with you

In your eyes, I could drown and still survive
In your eyes, I could see how to live my life
But if only I knew

In Your Eyes - 2/2

That chances were few
Maybe I would still be with you
