Once upon a time, a long time ago There was a lonely guy, that I saw He became my friend, then my man He was like a pen in my hand

I don't doubt there is something wrong between us I don't doubt, don't doubt

I don't remember me shouting at him I don't remember him shouting at me I can be wrong, I can be right I can be black, I can be white

I don't doubt there is something wrong between us I don't doubt, I don't doubt

You hate me 'cause I got what you need Pretty little sister, would you come in and sing You hate me 'cause I got what you need Pretty little daughter, would you come in and sing

I don't doubt there is something wrong between us I don't doubt, don't doubt
