

Enter from the east - 1/1

Interprété par Jewel.

I went out a-wandering beneath an unknown sky the heavens all shook violently he caught my eye strange fruit fell it struck me to the core my heart became a single flame it wanted nothing more stranger, enter from the east stranger, step inside this place oh, and own me, own me

the clock became a bullet hole cruel and unkind it hurt me with its second hand alone another night

blue, is that you?
well, don't bother knocking on my door this time blue, go be true for someone else there's no room inside this heart of mine our empty rooms my heart has four empty rooms three wait for lightning and one waits for you

I must have you all to myself feel the full weight of your skin I'll hollow out my insides to place you in

stranger, step inside this place
oh, and own me, own me
