There's a way to drive, I see it once in a while I watch the tail-lights and memorize I won't be too scared, I won't be too tired I'm becoming hard-wired

Feeling hazy, waking up inertia I'm having dreams I'm in the wrong picture Am I older than you thought Did you get less than you bought

There's a way to drive, I see it once in a while I watch the tail-lights and memorize I won't be too scared, I won't be too tired I'm becoming hard-wired

Dan you wanna roast it dan We're gonna kick it in the head if we can Me I'm just, me I'm just, I never got to read the plan

Dan you wanna roast it dan You know I never know the right way around I need a map, I need a map I need a map to get us out of this town

Now your hand is flashing danger I'm underdressed and you're getting stranger I can't tell you I'm incomplete You're gonna step on me
