

June Afternoon - 1/1

Interprété par Roxette.

Didn't I tell you everything is possible in this déjà vu?
Try the river boat, the carousel, feed the pigeons, Bar-B-Q.
Look at all the people, happy faces all around.
Smiling, throwing kisses, busy making lazy sounds
It's a bright June afternoon, it never gets dark. Wah-wah! Here comes the sun.
Get your green, green tambourine, let's play in the park. Wah-wah! Here comes the sun
Some folks are on blankets, slowly daydreaming and reaching for their food.
Let's go buy an ice-cream and a magazine with an attitude and put on a cassette, we can pretend that you're a star cos life's so very simple just like la-la-la. It's a bright June afternoon...
There's a painter painting his masterpiece. There are some squirrels jumping in the trees,
There's a wide-eyed boy with a red balloon. All my life I've longed for this afternoon.