

Fingertips - 1/1

Interprété par Roxette.

You're sliding down a dream, oh yea. Where nights are born in blue, that's the truth.
You're swimming in a stream, oh yea. Fish are jumping too, next to you.
Suddenly you notice someone at the door,
you could swear you've been through this all before.
Then she runs her fingertips through your hairs. Your life has just begun.
Her fingers, they are everywhere. You're floating light like the air, leaving the ground and she shines on just like the sun.
You're gazing at the sky, o my. The stars are out tonight, shining bright.
You're waving to a cloud, bye-bye. You're drowning in the smile of his eyes.
Suddenly you feel there's no time for a deal though a voice tells you it's for real.
And she runs her fingertips through your hairs and life has just begun.
Her fingers, there and everywhere.
You're floating light like the air, leaving the ground.
She-she shines on just like the sun. It's just a sunny afternoon.
Somebody's singing songs of love, child. You love a lazy afternoon once in a while.