The nightmares the bad dreams have become reality
At least inside my mind yeah
But no words that you say could ever make me wanna change
Forgive me not when it comes to this crime
I met her before you she wore the sweetest perfume
Her scent reminds me of our first date
I still taste our last kiss
Her name still falls from my lips
She burns just like an old flame

Hey hey I shouldn't speak her name
But she's always on my mind
Hey hey I wouldn't make you change
So don't expect me to try every fault every flaw

Your picture's still on my wall
There's not a thing about you that I would change
Say goodnight say goodbye I'll think of you when I'm high
I know someday you'll be doing the same

Hey hey I shouldn't speak her name but she's always on my mind
Hey hey I wouldn't make you change so don't expect me to try
Hey hey I shouldn't speak her name but she's always on my mind
Hey hey I wouldn't make you change
So don't expect me to try
Hey hey hey hey hey hey don't expect me to try
