

Summer romance (anti-gravity love song) - 1/1

Interprété par Incubus.

I'm home alone tonight
Full moon illuminates my room, and sends my mind aflight
I think I was dreaming up some thoughts
That were seemingly possible...with you

So I call you on the tin can phone
We rendez vous at a quarter-two, and make sure we're alone
I think have found a way for you and I to finally fly free

When we get there, we're gonna go so far away
Making sure to laugh while we experience anti-gravity

Anti-gravity x 2

For years, I kept it to myself
Now potentialities are abound, and sleeping under my shelf
Simply choose your destination from the diamond canopy
And we'll be there

So I call you on the tin can phone
We rendez vous at a quarter-two, and make sure we're alone
I think have found a way for you and I to finally be free.

When we get there, we're gonna go so far away
Making sure to laugh while we experience anti-gravity
