Interprété par The Gathering.

why did i ever think life is about to go on in a minute and did i ever see life is about to go on in a minute life never goes on those are empty words this is the back door that will lead you out to find the alley of your dreams they try and tell you they're just empty words

it's just a frame of mind

this is the back door leading me out sweep you away we'll never go on we're used to these empty words
