

Probably built in fifties - 1/1

Interprété par The Gathering.

I might be moving to the east to part my ways
And I will try to get something I don't have yet
If I do, I will look at it for days and days
Untill I will never forget

I have heard this mental search has made them all take a look along the border Having the urge For their minds to be lifted to something new I'm running to meet my higher self

I trust the speed Untill I have no need to run anymore

Miles and miles I run

I hear my feet And I hear myself breathe heavily

I trust the speed Untill I have no need To run anymore

Miles and miles I run