Album : V - The New Mythology Suite (2000)

Musique : Michael Romeo / Michael Pinnella

Paroles : Michael Romeo / Jason Rullo

All we know, now has come undone
Balance lost between the Moon and Sun
Hear out prayers - Keepers of the Skies
Divine
Upon us all - let your wisdom shine

Losing faith as the madness prevails in us all we are searching for a reason, a need to calm the storm
In our sails - let your winds be strong

Breathe the air around you
The oceans fill your veins and winds embrace your heart
Feel the change within you
The Sun and Moon align - The Grand Design awaits a new start

From the skies, looking down on you Through the clouds tainted crystal blue
"Such advancement, yet lacking the control, so unaware of your earthly roles"

Praise this child and the words of her rhyme
A sacred gift - Magic of the Five will bring you tranquillity
A new order of equality

Five senses come alive - Five reasons thrive - Five nations unite - Unite as one Night and Day will find a way to keep the Balance true Let the Sky and Stars be your guide - the destination is up to you

Raise our heads up to the Skies
Feel the essence of Time
Changing ways like the shifting tides
In the waves hear the Rhyme

"..unfortunately, not all were interested in the Ways of Justice, and those of the Night gathered to plot the elimination of the great Law of One and the death of Ma'at. The Atlantens harnessed the energy of the great

Communion and the oracle - 2/2

Crystals to create a weapon of immense power, unaware that the power they possessed would ultimately lead to thier downfall..."
