Part I : Let The Journey Begin

Highlander:

What heathen place is this that I've arrived in

Is now the time I pay for all my sins

I can't believe that this is God's creation

This realm was fashioned by the Deil's ane hand

Indian:

No it has been foretold, in our legends of old

Wake the spirit within, let the journey begin

Highlander:

This quest you speak of is for redemption

How can we travel when our souls are lost

You think we find ourselves at gates of new salvation

When I can only sense the end is here

Indian:

No it has been foretold, in our legends of old

Wake the spirit within, let the journey begin

Knight:

We're at the gates of Avalon, the island of spirits

We're at the gates of Avalon, in search of the grail

Part II : The Hall Of Isis And Osiris

Roman:

There's no way out, slaves for eternity

Down in the underworld, the jaws of Orcus

I call on Jupiter, ruler of the gods

Show us the way, from damnation to salvation

Isis and osiris - 2/2

Egyptian:

The fields of Yaaru lie waiting for us all
Rejoice! The judges have ruled
We have been chosen to enter the great hall
Of Isis and Osiris

Roman:

No you're wrong, we're trapped here in darkness
Among departed souls, and mislaid spirits
I call on Mars, the ancient god of war
Grant me the power, to free me from this evil

Egyptian:

The fields of Yaaru lie waiting for us all
Rejoice!
We have been chosen to enter the great hall
Of Isis and Osiris

Part III : Strange Constellations

Highlander:

Can you see the stars? Can you recognize the constellations?
If I could only see the hills that we're supposed to climb
Even the sunlight...it doesn't warm...doesn't warm
How are we gonna find our way?
If we can't recognize the stars, if we can't recognize the constellations
Where do we go?

Part IV : Reprise

Highlander:

The quest you speak of, it isn't bound for glory
No grail exists within this heathen land
You think we find ourselves at gates of new salvation
When I can only sense ...the end is near.
