Dragster wave - 1/1

It seems during the day That I'm a spy reincarnated Into a very strange love affair between a dream and a man It seems during the night That I can't even close my eyes I gotta tell you about my sweet living nightmare I fall in love with, every night

Your love is a dragster wave, It makes us breathe like two machines, Flower lust, my hurricane, you turn my blood into gasoline

And we sweat and it's sweet And we breathe like machines And we play, and we pray 'til we find hidden sins And we crash and we burn every moment in turn Everything we have learned to forget we'll return You'll leave on your knees, You'll cry I'll please Combustible tears, destructible fears And we crash and we burn every second in turn Everything that we learned to forget we'll return, All right !

And the sun is going over me, Over you sex steam battle face Over minivars and golgot eyes, your triple 6 carat ass

And we sweat and it's sweet And we breathe like machines And we play, and we pray 'til we find hidden sins And we crash and we burn every moment in turn Everything we have learned to forget we'll return You'll leave on your knees, You'll cry I'll please Combustible tears, destructible fears And we crash and we burn every second in turn Everything that we learned to forget we'll return, All right !
