

Love is not enough - 1/1

Interprété par Nine Inch Nails.

The more that we take, the paler we get
I can't remember what it is, we try to forget
The tile on the floor, so cold it can sting
In your eyes is a place, worth remembering
For you to go and take this, to smash it apart
I've gone all this fucking way
To wind up, wind up, back at the start

Hey the closer we think we are
Well it only got us so far
Now you got anything left to show
No, no, I didn't think so
Hey, the sooner we realize
We cover ourselves with lies
But underneath we're not so tough
And love is not enough

It hides in the dark
Like the withering vein
We didn't give it a mouth
So it cannot complain
It never really had a chance
We'd never really make it through
And to think I believed
Believed I could get better with you

Hey the closer we think we are
Well it only got us so far
Now you got anything left to show?
No, no, I didn't think so
Hey, the sooner we realize
We cover ourselves with lies
But underneath we're not so tough
And love is not enough

Left for dead, and all used up
