

Moving on - 1/2

Interprété par Mentake.

She's lying on her bed and she's just listening
To the silence in this room
And could she bring that sound to life?
She's been around the world and she's been thinking
About moving on again
Maybe never come back...again

She doesn't want to realize what's going on
In her life
And when she figures out she's wrong
It'll be too late
Chorus

She's living like a queen but she's a pawn
At least that's how she feels
But she's moving on
She's had the worst days and still it's not over
But she's moving on
Yeah she's moving on

She's staring at the walls and she's just wondering
Will she make it through the day?
And will she ever understand?
She's been around the world and she's been thinking
About moving on again (she's been around the world)
And maybe never come back...again

She doesn't want to realize what's going on
In her life
And when she figures out she's wrong
It'll be too late

Chorus
She wants to live a life that's in her dreams (that's in her dreams)
She wants to realize what's going on, but she don't
And when it all goes wrong
She looks at me
And she says it's not so bad
She looks at me
And she says it's not so bad
And when she figures out she's wrong
It'll be too late

Chorus

She's had the worst days and still it's not over
But she's moving on again

Moving on - 2/2

Yeah she's moving on
