

The call (no more crying) - 1/2

Interprété par Inept.

Here the call, I run to the room where she's lying on the floor.
Spent by pills in an effort to let go to speak louder than her voice

A picture of this world without beauty

How do you say how do you say
That your lifes worth nothing
How do you lose how do you lose
it enough to want to die
How do you say How do you say
That your lifes worth nothing more to you

She tries hard to forget and i know and she knows this wasnt right Sitting with this look of confusion breathing and then she screams as loud as she can.
I will never let me down again..no

How do you say how do you say
That your lifes worth nothing
How do you lose how do you lose
It enough to want to die
How do you say How do you say
That your lifes worth nothing

How do you lose how do you lose
It all to want to die?

RIGHT NOW

yeah yeah.

We will we will find a way for you!
To know to know how much we will be right here

Take the time to open your eyes and see you will always be apart of me.

How do you say how do you say
that your lifes worth nothing
how do you lose how do you lose
it all to want to die
How do you say How do you say
That your lifes worth nothing
How do you lose how do you lose
It enough to want to die

How do you say how do you say that your lifes nothing more
No more crying put your arms around me let it all drip out.

The call (no more crying) - 2/2

How do you say how do you say that your lifes nothing more
No more crying put your arms around me let it all drip out
