

Advert - 1/1

Interprété par Blur.

ad lib from the shopping channel it's six o'clock on the dot and i'm half way home i feel foul mouthed as i stand an wait for the underground and a nervous disposition does'nt agree with this i need something to remind me that there is something else

(chorus)
you need a holiday somewhere in the sun with all the people who are waiting there never seems to be one say something, say something else advertisments are here for rapid persuasion if you stare too long you loose your appetite a nervous disposition doesn't agree with this you need fast relief from aches and stomach pains

chorus

do you advert think