

Melt - 1/1

Interprété par Melanie C.

Melt

Caught in the eye of a storm Where we are born No truth is spoken Seems so long ago And you really don't know How you got broken

Feel me

Give a little bit of love for your people But save a little bit of love for yourself Have a little bit of trust in the way you feel And see your heart melt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold in my hell
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you know
Then let your heart melt

Now is your time to rise The one you can fly I know why you sent me

Feel me

Give a little bit of love for your people But save a little bit of love for yourself Have a little bit of trust in the way you feel And see your heart melt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold in my hell
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you know
Then watch you heart
Feel your heart melt

Send a little bit of hope down the airwaves
Find a little bit of gold in my hell
You've got to have a little bit of faith in everything you know
Then let your heart
Feel your heart melt
