

Makes No Difference - 1/1

Interprété par Sum 41.

you're running fast and missing but cannot help convincing the reasons you gave me are all wearing thin it's not meant to hurt you but let me assure you it's not what i said but intentions you've read so when you hold onto the past then you will break down what little is left yea there's nothing more you can't ignore
and say it makes no difference to me now that you're older life's weighing on your shoulders can't seem to keep things so perfectly straight with most things so basic you might as well face it you can't help but worry it's all just begun

there's nothing more you can't ignore
and say it makes no difference to me

it makes no difference to me

yeah, there's nothing more you can't ignore
and say it makes no difference to me
it makes no difference
