

You Say - 1/1

Interprété par Jennifer Peña.

You say that you found some one You say she could be the one How she can touch your heart And you say that she knows what to do you say, that she cares for you now I realize what I missed out in you cause I took you for granted , for granted ,for granted you gave your heart and still I let you go cause I took you for granted , for granted ,for granted baby I realize i had it all cause I took you for granted , for granted ,for granted I should've Known beforeI let you go cause I took you for granted , for granted ,for granted now I'm here alone and lost without you you say that she treats you right you say she stands by your side never tries to harm you she is always thinking of you And you say that she is faithful you say, that you are thankful she always says I Love You, does everything to have you I should've Know nit from the start I should have kept you inside of my heart This the reason, we're apart now I know you won't come back
