

Missing - 1/2

Interprété par Sheryl Crow.

Feeling weak today
Run the risk of tears
Falling down your cheeks
From all the lonely years
Holding back your love
While she races up the hill
Chase what you dream of
But always standing still

All in all you see
Everything is history
Think of all that you've been missing

Every now and then
Shadows bring you back again
Think of all the things you're missing

Lay the pictures out
Pull the curtains down
Don't let see you break
Your happiness you fake
Sending up a flare
If anybody really cares
To talk a little while
The past to reconcile

All in all you see
Everything is history
Think of all that you've been missing

Every now and then
I can almost picture him and think of all the things
Of all the things, of all the things

Well I do
I do
Hear the morning creeping in
And the spirit sings again

Well you will
You will
See the beauty in this moment
Every time you're standing still
Time you're standing still

These times are temporary
Some day the wind will carry you home

Missing - 2/2

And you'll be free
No one will pull you down
You'll wake up and look around
And never again
Think of all that you've been missing

All in all you see
Everything is history
