

Paper Cup - 1/1

Wishful thinking I might be yours
Drifting on every step
I'm always drawn to the dark horse
Sweet sweet, oh nothing's said

And every dream, every, is just a dream after all And everything stands so still when you dance Everything spins so fast And the night's in a paper cup When you want it to last

Wishful thinking you might be mine Every shiver sends One breath under the bridge of sighs Bending where the river bends

And every dream, every, is just a dream, after all

And everything stands so still when you dance Everything spins so fast And the nights in a paper cup When you want it to last

And every dream, every, is just a dream after all And everything stands so still when you dance Everything spins so fast And the night's in a paper cup When you want it to last

And everything stands so still when you dance Everything spins so fast And the night's in a paper cup When you want it to last
