

All That I Need - 1/1

Interprété par Boyzone.

i was lost and alone trying to grow makin' my way down that long winding road had no reason or rhyme like a song out of time and there you were standing in front of my eyes how could i be such a fool to let go of love and break all of the rules? girl, when you walked out that door left a hole in my heart and now i know for sure you're the air that i breathe girl you're all that i need

and i wanna thank you lady you're the words that i read you're the light that i see and you're love is all that i need

i was searching in vain playin' your game had no one else but myself left to blame you came into my world no diamond or pearls could ever replace what you gave to me girl just like a castle of sand girl, i almost let love slip right out of my hand and just like a flower needs rain i will stand by your side through the joy and the pain

your the song that i sing girl, you're my everything and i wanna thank you lady you're all that i need, girl you're the air that i breathe, yeah and i wanna thank you, lady
