

It's Time - 1/1

Interprété par Boyzone.

here at home, the thoughts racing through my crazy mind trying to figure out if i'm loving you this one more time and when i got the mail it made me close the door just right behind you on a trail of clothes left lying here thrown across the floor now maybe it's the way this love was meant to be and maybe it's the only way for you and for me it's time, to say goodbye its time, oh please don't cry it's time, two reasons why it's time, i will never lie to you you cast your spell, but the magic has been broken down and i'm all packed up, with empty boxes lying all around it's like a flickering flame, that casts a shadow on the brightest day and does it help to know that i feel the same and its gone now

it's time, to say goodbye its time, oh please don't cry it's time, two reasons why it's time, i will never lie to you
