

Don't Stop Looking For Love - 1/1

Interprété par Boyzone.

been so long since i found someone you came as some surprise but i knew you were meant for me when i looked into your eyes so beautiful and strong boy where did you come from as life passed me by you fell from the sky and i could hear you say don't stop looking for love it can be found in the strangest places just when you've given up along comes a miracle that turns your life around so don't stop looking for love walking around with my head hanging down i felt so alone and your love seemed miles away i was a heart without a home a woman in the rain and you took the clouds away now bright as the sun, our love has begun and i could hear you say

suddenly my dream had come and rescued me i can't believe i finally reached the day now i can say
