This is a start

That I know I'll believe in

So I'm leavin' everything behind Keeping the parts

That I know I'll be needing

And I breed to be a better kind

And I'm leavin' everyone behind This is the age

When my past should be gone

But it's just stronger than the aims I have Turning the pages

I used to hang on to

I was young and I have changed my mind And I'm leaving everything behind New beginning again

A bit closer

New beginning again

A little bit closer

New beginning again

A bit closer to the end New beginning again

A little bit closer to the end This is the time

It's a delicate line

To the beginning of what's yet to come

Lifetimes of changes

A strange generation

Explanations never come in time So I'm leavin' everything
behind New beginning again

A bit closer

New beginning again

A little bit closer

New beginning again

A bit closer to the end New beginning again

A little bit closer to the end

New beginning again

A little bit closer to the end
