Who Needs You
Words and music by John Deacon

I make it half past six you come at seven Always try to keep me hanging round You little spoilt thing girl you kept me waiting Never contemplating my point of view This comes as no surprise I'm a fool for I believed your lies But now I've seen through your disguise Who needs well I don't need who needs you?

Oh I believed you
Went on my knees to you
How I trusted you
But you turned me down
But it's dog eat dog in this rat race
And it leaves you bleeding lying flat on your face
Reaching out reaching out for a helping hand
Where is that helping hand?

I like it I like it Well I don't need you

How I was pushed around
Don't let it get you down
You walked all over me
But don't you ever give in
Taking one step forward slipping two steps back
There's an empty feeling that you can't forget
Reaching out for a helping hand

When I met you you were always charming Couldn't sleep at night 'till you were mine You were oh so so sophisticated Never interested in what I'd say I had to swallow my pride So naive you took me for a ride But now I'm the one to decide Who needs well I don't need who needs you?
