Tonight I try to find out in secrecy
I see, I feel what will be my destiny

I feel the blood in my veins
I cannot stop it
I've just got to let it run

Alright, I'll fight for what I have to inherit
To stay alive and so close to be buried
Under the dust I've never settled down
And a windy day to choke me until I'm dead

I will keep in mind what I have seen and learned
Then I might avoid my dreams turn into
A black diamond
