[Part I: Tharos Last Flight]

"Oh, cruel, destiny... The tears soon covered the warrior's face and Tharos, the beloved dragon, spread his wings for the last time, happy to have found the freedom at least in death... Fly... fly high, mighty Tharos... Your name will always be remembered by the people of the enchanted lands... and your mwmory will march with us forever against the hordes of the black lord for the salvation of the enchanted lands.
Goodbye, brother... goodbye...!!"

[Part II: The Hymn of the Warrior]

God of dawn, father of thunder Lord of the wind now blowing on me
Thank you for all, for your holy sign For mountains and hills, the forest, the sea for all those dead and for my princess they'll shed their blood cause finally the emerald sword is now mine

[Part III: Rex Tremende]

For what you did to them you will burn in my hate

Son of hell betrayer of light king of the dark your name is carved on my steel for your will the innocent die every day but my sword will soon come for you all
and your kingdom will fall
and you'll be dust again forever

Rex tremende semper inimice
ad gloriam perpetuam brave all we'll march
to give you the eternal agony

Love magic word fill all my dreams eternally use me Love guide me to ecstasy to victory to infinity to rhymes of winds to the voice of the dead to innocence of my memory

Rape of earth I want your head

Symphony of enchanted lands - 2/2

sadist pig I can't forgive what you did all the blood you're sucking out of my land
and your kingdom will fall
and you'll be dust again forever

Rex tremende semper inimice
ad gloriam perpetuam brave all we'll march
to give you the eternal agony

[Part IV: The Immortal Fire]

"Go, mighty warrior... The kings of enchanted lands are awaiting your victory! Ride on the wings of wisdom, ride beyond the middle valleys to defeat the master of chaos in the name of cosmoc justice. Peace and love forever!"
