Fight the power and the power will fight back
You're only as good as the system you hack
If you become a problem you will be replaced
Banned, shut down, erased

The world is capsized gone erratic
Constitutional rights have dissolved into static
The truth is based on misinformation
Reality is only a hallucination

The revolution will be synthesized
The revolution will be synthesized

Another decade gone terribly wrong
Affectively effecting generations to come
We only buy into what we can sell
We only want to protect you from yourself

Falling on your face from the media hype
We're busy creating a new stereotype
Amending the story to keep it intact
And make sure that vision accomodates fact

Do you know who owns and controls the station your watching?
Does the truth you know rely on something?
Does it matter?
Does it matter?

The revolution will be synthesized
The revolution will be synthesized
The revolution will be synthesized

Corporate wars versus plastic celebrity
Competing for headlines with pills for verility
Ulterior motives in a shroud secrecy
The holy grail is a mark of supremacy

Killing machines for destruction and mayhem
Can we pity the victims if we don't even know them?
If anything goes wrong we'll blame the middle man
Cause we're not gonna stray from the agenda at hand

Do you know who owns and controls the station you're watching?
Does the truth you know rely on something?
The revolution will be synthesized
The revolution will be synthesized
