

Afterlife - 1/2

Interprété par Dream Theater.

Album : When Dream And Day Unite (1989)

Musique : Dream Theater

Paroles : Charlie Dominici

I touched with one who made me run away from my own soul...
In this world with its many illusions
We are moving like mice through a maze

And now I find
what's left behind has served to make me whole full of doubt, deception, and delusion seeking purpose to all earthly days

I search within beneath a skin
that bears both pleasure and pain
In a world full of constant confusion
I will not be a par to the craze

In the Afterlife
will dark be bright?
will cold be warm?
will the day have no night?
In the Afterlife?
will the blind have sight?
In the Afterlife

Behind closed eyes
some comfort lies
In knowing the truth never spoken Through this world with us hidden conclusion
we'll keep moving like mice through a maze

In the Afterlife
will dark be bright?
will cold be warm?
will the day have no night?
In the Afterlife?
will the blind have sight?
