Interprété par Robbie Williams.

There's no earthly way of knowing
What was in your heart
When it stop going
The whole world shook
A storm was blowing through you
Waiting for god to stop this
And up to your neck in drakness
Everyone around you was corrupted
Say something

There's no dignity in death
To sell the world your last breath
We're still fighting over everything you left

I saw you standing at the gates
When Marlon Brando passed away
You had that look upon your face
Advertising space

No one learned from your mistakes
We let our prophets go to waste
All that's left in any case
In advertinsing space

Through your eyes the world was burning
Please be gentle I'm still learning
You seemed to say as you kept turning up
They poison you with compromise
As what point did you realise
That everybody loves your life but you

A special agent for the man
Through Watergate and Vietnam
No one really gave a damn
Do you think the CIA did

I saw you standing at the gates
When Marlon Brando passed away
You had that look upon your face
Advertising space

No one learned from your mistakes
We let our prophets go to waste
All that's left in any case
In advertinsing space
No one learned from your mistakes
We let our prophets go to waste

All that's left in any case
In advertinsing space
I've seen your daughter man she's cute
I was scared but I wanted to
But she looks a lot like you
