

Finding reasons - 1/1

Interprété par Inept.

Every time you find happiness it seems to find a way to bring pain in the end searching for something to stay looking for answers to make up for these days and it seems it's only you who feels the way you do reasons right in front of you and you just don't see it find a reason why these things don't go your way find a reason good old days they always fade can it be that they get bored of you can it be that they expect to much waiting for the pinch that will wake you wondering just when the confusion will end hoping for a day that brings truth ending all the time that you sit and wonder why oh why and it seems it's only you who feels the way you do searching hard to find the truth for you

find a reason why these things don't go your way
find a reason good old days they always fade
can it be that they get bored of you can it be that they expect to much, in the end